

BALLOTING ON BARGAINING IN STEEL PLANTS

Results In Referendum Are Expected To Be Known Friday

STRIKE IN DETROIT PLYMOUTH PLANT

Truce Restores Electric Service In Thirteen Michigan Counties

By The Associated Press.
DETROIT, May 20.—The Chrysler Corporation announced that a strike which closed its Plymouth plant here was settled late today.

By The Associated Press.
Orderly balloting marked the largest industrial election thus far supervised by the national labor board which claimed widespread attention in labor circles today.

More than 9,000 workers were estimated to have voted by noon at Pittsburgh and Allquippa, Pa., in the referendum which will determine whether John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization unions will represent the men in collective bargaining with the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation.

Special officers patrolled the election zone but encountered no serious trouble though warrants were sworn for seven employees of Republic Steel Corporation. The CIO public workers organizing committee charged the seven had attempted to "interfere" with the balloting.

The election results were expected to be known tomorrow.
In Detroit, a strike stopped the assembly line in the Plymouth division of Chrysler Corporation. It was the first shutdown in a Chrysler unit since the company ended a protracted strike five weeks ago by signing an agreement with the United Automobile Workers of America.

Three thousand workers remained on strike at the fabrication mill of the Aluminum Company of America plant at Alcoa, Tenn. Union officials said no effort would be made to close the company's carbon and reduction shop, where 1,000 still are employed, because it would cause expense and delay.

The Bethlehem Steel Corporation, another large independent, was faced with a strike of several hundred workers at Johnstown, Pa. The Committee for Industrial Organization refused to sanction the walk-out for higher wages.

Restore Electric Service
A truce providing for immediate negotiation of differences over wages rates resulted in restoration of electric service in 13 Michigan counties. A strike by employees at the Consumers Power Company at Saginaw caused suspension of service in Bay City, Flint, Saginaw and 190 smaller communities.

Negotiators will meet with Gov. Frank Murphy, who termed the strike "unnecessary." It was called by the United Automobile Workers of America.

The Federated Motion Picture Crafts said its strike would be extended to 27 independent film producers at midnight unless they granted demands for a union shop. The studio strike against major concerns reached its 21st day.

American Federation of Labor leaders made preparations for a meeting at Cincinnati Monday with representatives of 106 unions. There were indications President Green would propose a unionization campaign in mass production industries to combat the C. I. O.

Scattered strikes in Indiana made approximately 9,000 workers idle. An estimated 7,000 of them were employees of the Studebaker Motor Co. at South Bend. The latter dispute involved a union protest against non-union employees.

THREE INJURED AS AUTOS SIDESWIPE

In a collision of automobiles on highway No. 40, four miles east of Marshall Junction, about 9:30 o'clock this morning Hugo Sparr, superintendent of the Prudential Insurance Company, escaped injury while occupants of the other car, a Buick, sustained injuries and were taken to Fitzhugh hospital at Marshall for treatment.

In the Buick headed west were J. A. McKenna, accompanied by his cook and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Swartz of Boulder, Colo., who were returning from a trip to Florida.

The Sparr automobile, in which he was en route to Pierson, was traveling east and the other car sideswiped, the Buick going into a ditch on the south side of the highway as it careened off the concrete. Both cars were badly wrecked.

Mrs. Swartz, it was believed by those rendering first aid while awaiting an ambulance, sustained a fractured leg while Mr. Swartz had numerous cuts and bruises. Mr. McKenna had a severe cut on his nose.

KENYON TRIAL IS SET FOR JUNE 15

WEST PLAINS, Mo., May 20.—(AP)—The trial of Robert Kenyon, Young Howell county farm youth and alleged kidnaper and slayer of Dr. J. C. B. Davis of Willow Springs in January, has been set for Tuesday, June 15, in circuit court here, according to Circuit Clerk Blain Jennings.

Prosecuting Attorney Will D. Roberts said today he has been advised a Kansas City attorney has been employed to defend Kenyon who is still in jail at Kansas City.

Rabbi Sale Died Wednesday

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—(AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Rev. Dr. Samuel Sale, 82, rabbi and rabbi emeritus of Temple Shaare Emeth here for more than 50 years. Rabbi Sale died yesterday. He was a student of oriental and classical languages.

WITHDRAWAL IS URGED ON COURT REFORM BILL

Some Talk of Compromise To Restrict It To Two Added Judges

WASHINGTON, May 20.—President Roosevelt denied through a secretary today that his senate advisers were urging him to withdraw his court reorganization bill or accept a compromise.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—President Roosevelt's closest senate advisers were urging him today to withdraw his court reorganization bill or restrict it to two additional justices.

They argued that the original bill no longer is needed, because the court is constraining the constitution more broadly and because Justice Van Devanter's retirement is approaching.

Mr. Roosevelt still gave no public indication that he would yield. Many senators predicted he would stand firm until the supreme court decides the constitutionality of the social security law.

There were indications, however, of private negotiations for a compromise. Administration leaders in the senate certainly were talking it.

The President himself called Senator Nye (R-ND) to the White House yesterday for a conference, which Nye would not discuss afterwards.

The North Dakotan, one of the last Republicans senators to declare against the Roosevelt bill, frequently has criticized the supreme court. He long has been associated with Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) and La Follette (Prog-Wis), both of whom are supporting the court bill.

Word was passed around in the senate that the President discussed with Nye a compromise on two, instead of six, new supreme court justices. Nye would neither confirm nor deny the report.

Senator Frazier (R-ND), also was understood to have received a White House invitation.

Court bill opponents said the administration was now working for the two justice compromise instead of the proposal supported in the judiciary committee with the approval of Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, for appointment of one justice a year as long as any incumbents were over 75.

There was strong sentiment in the senate for withdrawal of the bill entirely and substitution of a constitutional amendment to require retirement of judges at 70 or 75 year of age.

Even some supporters of the Roosevelt bill argued privately that this now would meet the situation.

Opponents were just beginning today to write the committee's adverse report on the bill, and it appeared likely that the supreme court would rule on the social security act before debate could begin in the senate.

That might make it possible to work out a solution to the controversy before the issue reaches the floor.

Because developments on the bill all were backstage, senate discussion centered today on the possibility of Senator Robinson being appointed to succeed Justice Van Devanter.

Senator McNary of Oregon, Republican, said every Republican vote would be cast for confirmation of the appointment, if it was forthcoming. He added he would be inclined to ask for confirmation without even sending the nomination to a committee.

There was even talk of getting up a petition to the President, but it was not pressed.

Talk of legal obstacles to selection of a member of congress died down as Senators Borah (R-Idaho), Wheeler (D-Mont), Burke (D-Neb), and other constitutional authorities said they had no doubt of Robinson's eligibility.

In the election of officers by the Missouri State Federation of Labor at Jefferson City Wednesday Edward P. Mullahey of Sedalia was made a member of the executive board. The convention in 1935 goes to Moberly.

SENATE APPROVES SALARY HIKES TO CIRCUIT CLERKS

"Grab Bag" Charges Are Reiterated By Senator Donnelly

SPOTLIGHT ON OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

House Social Security Committee To Take It Up In Hearing

JEFFERSON CITY, May 20.—Salary hikes for circuit clerks, old age assistance, and the law on delinquent tax collections figured prominently in the legislative picture today.

The circuit clerk measure had senate approval on a 26 to 3 vote despite reiterated "grab bag" charges made during yesterday afternoon's session, but must go back to the house for a vote on a senate amendment clipping off part of the increase.

It places the clerks on a salary rather than a fee basis.

Old age assistance was spotlighted because of the house social security committee's scheduled closed hearing tonight on Senator M. E. Casey's pension-relief-child welfare measure.

The bill makes changes in the old age assistance law asked by representatives of the federal social security board. Governor Stark announced last yesterday a hearing by the U. S. body at which Missouri is to "show cause" why federal matching of old age payment should not be cut off has been postponed a second time—from May 25 to June 1. Stark has urged passage of the Casey measure before the hearing.

The salary increase for circuit clerks—sponsored by Rep. John D. Taylor, Chariton county—drew fire from Senator Phil Donnelly, Lebanon, who reiterated "grab bag" charges made recently in his attack on restoration of the office of county treasurer in 74 counties. The bill affects all counties except Greene, Buchanan, Jasper, Jackson and St. Louis.

Senator Clyde Cope, Salem, defended the measure, saying newspapers had criticized the assembly unjustly for "small increases made to underpaid county officials" and had used Donnelly's "grab bag" remark as a "juicy morsel."

"I have no apology to make for my statement about this being a grab bag session," Donnelly said. "I am willing to rest on the records this senate and house have written, and I think it will convict us."

Sensors Albert M. Clark, Richmond, and Delmar Dail, Marceline, said compensation of circuit clerks has been so reduced there was little inducement in the office for high type candidates.

The bill as passed by the senate gives a flat increase averaging $200 in all but a few counties, and another hike—on a graduated scale from $100 to $500—for duties of the circuit clerk "as clerk of the juvenile court."

The first increase, it was said, will not be effective until expiration of the present term of office, but the hike "as juvenile court clerk" does not conflict with the constitutional bar against raising pay of an office holder during his term, and would be effective for present clerks.

Donnelly tried to eliminate the juvenile court pay as "subterfuge" but was voted down.

Present maximum compensation of circuit clerks on a fee basis, and total pay under the proposed law, is as follows in these counties: Boone $2,500 and $3,000; Butler $2,100 and $2,800; Cape Girardeau $2,500 and $3,000; Cole $2,500 and $3,000; Grundy $1,700 and $2,300; Marion $2,200 and $3,000; Nodaway $2,300 and $3,000; Pettis $2,500 and $3,000; Vernon $2,300 and $3,000.

VOTE SALARY CUT TO CCC DIRECTOR

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The senate voted today to cut the salary of Civilian Conservation Corps Director Robert Fechner from $12,000 to $10,000 annually.

The salary-trimming amendment was adopted 44 to 29.

It was offered by Senator Clark (D-Mo.) to legislation for establishing the CCC on a permanent basis. A similar agreement already had been approved by the house.

The salary was slashed over the protest of Senator Copeland (D-N. Y.).

KILLER TO GALENA TO HANG FRIDAY

JEFFERSON CITY, May 20.—Roscoe "Red" Jackson, slayer of a traveling salesman, told Warden J. M. Sanders today he was "going to die like a man" and then began a 180-mile trip to Galena, Mo., where he will be hanged for the murder tomorrow morning.

Handcuffed to Sheriff W. H. Simmons of Taney County and Deputy Sheriff F. A. Moore of Stone County, he was taken by motor car about 1 o'clock this afternoon from the state penitentiary here where he has been held for safekeeping for 29 months.

Sheriff I. H. Coin of Stone County, Sheriff Joe G. Munger of Christian County, members of the highway patrol, and several others accompanied in two other cars.

"I am leaving with a good will toward everybody," Jackson said just before he was taken from the prison. "I want the public to know that to those whom I have wronged, I am sorry. I'm a man at heart, and I'm going to die like a man."

Jackson, about 35, was given the death penalty for the murder in August, 1934, of Pearl Bozarth, of Evansville, Ind., who had picked him up, bought him a meal at Branson, and given him a ride in his motor car. He was tried in Stone county on a charge of venue.

The cordoned man started for Galena a short time after legislative action was completed on a bill which provides for executions in the state penitentiary by use of lethal gas, instead of by hanging in counties in which persons are convicted.

INSURANCE MEN GIVE TALKS TO THE KIWANIS

Program Given In Connection With Insurance Week

The Sedalia Kiwanis Club today noon at Hotel Bothwell heard a most interesting program on Life Insurance, which was a part of the Local Life Insurance Underwriters' program for Life Insurance Week which ends Saturday.

A. H. Wilks presided and introduced the following members of the local association who were present: C. G. Wilson, C. E. Ryler, Sam Stone, L. B. Pratt, Leonard Ruffin, Paul Kirner, Guy Peabody, W. E. Scott, A. H. Wilks, T. H. Yount, J. T. Denny, H. M. Sparr, Kenneth Johnston and also introduced Guy Cowden an insurance man from Springfield, Ill.

Principal talks were made by Mr. Wilks who explained the purposes of Life Insurance Week and C. G. Wilson who spoke on the benefits of educational insurance on small payment plans which was of much interest to those present. In speaking of insurance in general Mr. Wilson stated that in 1908 one out of every eight persons carried life insurance policies while today every other person in the United States is provided with life insurance protection. Mr. Wilks pointed out that today one hundred four and a half billion dollars of life insurance is now in force in the United States.

W. E. Scott closed the program with a talk on the benefits of insurance as a future security and explained the numerous options under which beneficiaries might plan their future security.

C. L. Hanley club president also introduced Mrs. John E. Armstrong who spoke briefly on the "Poppy Day" sales which will be held in Sedalia.

EXPRESS FEAR ON PLANS OF THE DUKE

By The Associated Press.
LONDON, May 20.—Friends of the Duke of Windsor expressed the fear today that any effort on his part to carry out his reported determination to bolster the influence of the royal family would backfire with the gravest possibility of injury to the institution of the monarchy itself.

They pointed out that, while the abdicated monarch had probably been embittered by the decision that no member of the royal family would attend his wedding to Mrs. Wallis Warfield, any suggestion he might head a fight against the advisors of King George VI was "fantastic."

Dispatches from Paris reported persons close to Windsor said he considered the same quarters that led him to abdicate were now attempting to curtail his brother's influence and that he planned to do all possible to aid George keep some of his royal rights.

The net result of Edward's abdication, so he might marry Mrs. Warfield, his friends here said, was to demonstrate beyond question the King of England has no political power.

Any move by the self-exiled former king, they added, to increase the personal influence of King George might rebound with disastrous results.

INSURGENTS IN BILBAO ADVANCE ARE BLOCKED

By The Associated Press.
HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, May 20.—Grim Basque militiamen, their backs to Bilbao's last defense wall, blocked the insurgent offensive at least temporarily today.

Bilbao commanders declared one of Gen. Emilio Mola's columns had stalled against the reformed defense line in its thrust from fallen, half-mined Amorebieta, about eight miles east by southeast from the tottering Basque capital.

An insurgent communique said Mola's forces captured Mount Gernandendi and six villages in an advance on a six-mile front northwest of Amorebieta.

The commander reported the insurgents had reached within 1,000 feet of an important Basque communications center in that sector but did not locate it. His report said Bilbao's defenders abandoned more than 200 dead on the battlefield besides losing 100 prisoners and 39 deserters. 50-75 civilian families also were reported to have sought refuge behind the insurgent lines.

A Basque dispatch conceded the insurgents' continued progress in the vicinity of Munguia, nine miles northeast of Bilbao, and said the defenders had "modified slightly" their "positions of resistance." It reported heavy insurgent casualties.

This advance line was about five miles from Galdacano, a key point in the city's "Little Maginot Line" of steel and concrete fortifications and trenches forming a protective semi-circle against the push of the insurgent legions.

MOVE TO DELAY FARM PROGRAM

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 20.—A movement to postpone action until next year on the agricultural adjustment program drafted by farm organizations developed today among congressional leaders.

They pointed out that a delay would aid the economy campaign and would give farmers time to study the legislation, which combines authorization for production control, soil conservation, limited crop insurance and an ever-normal granary.

The cost might be between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 greater than the present soil conservation program, said American Farm Bureau officials.

Although final decision lay with President Roosevelt, Secretary Wallace said yesterday he hoped a broad federal program along the lines of that bill would be enacted at this session.

On the premise that excessive surpluses had contributed to the breaking of the proper price relationship, the old AAA sought to reestablish it by curtailing production. Cooperating farmers were given benefit payments from processing taxes on commodities thus curtailed.

While it would set up a more complicated system, the proposed new AAA is designed similarly to keep production of major farm commodities in line with normal demand.

'LINDY' FLEW THE ATLANTIC TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

St. Louis Backers Recall Arrival In "Old Crate" There In 1925

FLIGHT MADE FOR PRIZE OF $25,000

"Spirit of St. Louis" Constructed Especially For Ocean Hop

By OSCAR KAHAN
ST. LOUIS, May 20.—Charles A. Lindbergh, his only possession an extra suit of clothes, flew to St. Louis in an "old crate" in the spring of 1925. Two years later he had spanned the Atlantic to win the adulation of the world.

Major Albert Bond Lambert, wealthy pioneer airman and vice-president of the board of police commissioners, who knew Lindbergh from the day he first reached St. Louis, recalled the young pilot today on the tenth anniversary of the epic flight from New York to Paris.

Lambert and Phil Love, now lieutenant colonel and air officer of the 35th division of the Missouri National Guard, were seated on a bench at Lambert's "cow pasture," which became the present Lambert-St. Louis municipal airport, when Lindbergh landed.

The boyish-appearing flier, his hair tousled, walked from the plane and said, "How do you do? Where can I get a hot dog sandwich?" When he got it and returned, he asked, "Any place around here a fellow can stay?"

"Love, who had no more resources than Lindbergh, looked him over," Lambert recalled. "Then he said, 'You can join me in my hut, but if you want, I live out here.'"

The "hut" had but one cot. Lindbergh moved far over to one side of it that night, leaving at east three-fourths of the bed for his host. The next morning, Love gave Lindbergh the nickname, "Slim," commenting, "that fellow could sleep on the edge of a slat."

Lindbergh stayed at Love's hut two years. He became an instructor for the Robertson Aircraft Corporation and later one of its air mail pilots when the company was awarded a contract for the St. Louis-Chicago route.

Anxious For Prize
Lambert said the idea of crossing the Atlantic came to Lindbergh on his solitary night flight with the mail. Six years earlier, 1919, Raymond Orwig had offered $25,000 to the first man to fly nonstop from New York to Paris.

On Dec. 23, 1926, an afternoon when a hard snow was falling, Lindbergh walked into Lambert's office. "I've got a proposition I'd like to ask you about," he said. "It's something I'm going to do. I want to make the trans-Atlantic flight for treat prize."

GAS EXECUTION BILL TO GOVERNOR

By The Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, May 20.—Legislative action on the bill making the hangman's rope a museum piece in Missouri was completed today by the senate, which sent the measure calling for executions by lethal gas at the state prison to the governor.

A minor house amendment was approved and the bill then re-passed on a 23-0 vote.

Senator Paul Jones, Kennett, its author, has said it would end the "Roman holiday" scenes occurring in Missouri county seats when hangings have been carried out. Governor Stark has indicated his tentative approval.

ICKES APPROVES ADDED PRISON FUND

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The public works administration announced today Administrator Harold Ickes had approved revision of contracts for rehabilitation of Missouri's penitentiary at Jefferson City to add $244,637 to the cost of the project. The PWA will provide 50 per cent of the increased cost.

EMPLOYMENT STAFF MEETS AT LEXINGTON

Efficient Handling of Employer's Orders Is Discussed

Among the topics given special consideration at the staff training meeting held at Lexington, Mo., for the personnel of government employment agencies was the handling of employers orders so that service given might be expedient and efficient.

F. W. Tate manager of the bureau and staff, C. M. Woodstock, Arthur Maynard and Mrs. Sophia Imhauser, all from Sedalia attended.

Another phase of employment office work discussed was that of placing workers in jobs and localities not under the jurisdiction of the local office.

Although the public employment office is designed primarily to serve the counties for which it is responsible it also acts as a state wide job clearing house.

This means that if an office in one locality receives a request for a specially skilled workman and has none registered it can call upon the other offices throughout the state to see whether they have such an applicant registered.

Such skilled workman are especially requested to register at the employment office as there is a possibility that a call from some other city for a workman of that particular skill will be made.

Jobs have been filled in this manner in many instances. One employer made a request for a plumber experienced in repairing pipes in an ice skating rink; another order called for a polisher experienced in polishing gold-filled jewelry cases; one was for a proof reader with at least three years experience.

Filling such requests as well as placing workman in local positions is done by the employment office.

DE MOLAY HONORS JOHN D. ROBB

The title of Representative DeMolay was conferred upon John David Robb of Longwood this morning at Missouri Valley College at Marshall. Exercises were held in Stewart chapel on the campus.

W. C. Gordon of Marshall, past Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of the state of Missouri, presented the award, which consisted of a medal, certificate and chevron.

On the platform were the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Robb of Longwood, parents of John David; Dr. R. L. Scarless, commander of the Marshall Knights Templar; J. W. Adams, high priest of the Royal Arch Chapter of Marshall; Ernest Fasley, adviser of the Sedalia Chapter of DeMolay; Albert Bybee, another representative DeMolay of the Sedalia Chapter; Dr. L. S. Geiger, member of the advisory council of the Sedalia Chapter, and Dr. George H. Mack, president of Missouri Valley College.

Other Sedalians present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kennedy, Albert Loewer, Fred Hanley, present master councilor of the Sedalia chapter of DeMolay, W. H. Carl, chairman of the Sedalia DeMolay advisory council. Mr. Kennedy is a member of the advisory council.

Mr. Gordon, who presented the medal, is now Grand Warden, Grand Encampment of the Grand Commandery of the United States.

There are now three representative DeMolays in the Sedalia chapter, the other two are Albert Bybee and Homer Vance.

The Sedalia Chapter of DeMolay is one of the oldest and strongest, having been organized in 1921.

The chapel was well filled with visitors and students who witnessed the ceremony.

"LINDBERGH FLIES ALONE"

From the New York Sun, May 21, 1927.

Alone? Is he alone at whose right side rides Courage, with Skill within the cockpit and Faith upon the left? Does solitude surround the brave when Adventure leads the way and Ambition reads the dials? Is there no company with him for whom the air is cleft by Daring and the darkness is made light by Emprise?

True, the fragile bodies of his fellows do not weigh down his plane; true, the fretful minds of weaker men are lacking from his crowded cabin; but as his airship keeps her course, he holds communion with those rarer spirits that inspire to intrepidity and by their sustaining potency give strength to arm, resource to mind, content to soul.

Alone? With what other companions would that man fly to whom the choice were given?

Acclaim and fame came from the triumph of Charles A. Lindbergh practically unknown young mail pilot, who was known among his inmates as "Slim." His feat in flying the Atlantic ten years ago brought world wide renown and his achievement brought plaudits such as never before had been accorded any aviator.

After his epoch making dash through the skyways from America to Paris he was familiarly known as "The Lone Eagle" because of his flights alone, but now, since his marriage several years ago to the former Anne Morrow, he has made numerous trips over uncharted airways in various parts of the world, she always accompanying him.

U. S. DIET ANALYZED

Americans have been eating about the same quantity of food for the last 10 years, notwithstanding the great reduction in incomes between 1931 and 1935. But after an analysis of dietary records kept by different types of families, Dr. Hazel K. Stiebeling of the bureau of home economics points out that the kinds of food eaten by families at different income levels are very different. Some have had a liberal diet. Others have had to do with very little of the important protective foods. The average diets of families spending $100 or more per person per year for food afforded some margin of safety in all nutritive essentials.

The families studied reported on the kind, quantity, and cost of food consumed. They included those of business and professional workers, wage earners, and low income semi-dependent families. The dietary records collected at intervals since 1914 were taken in every season of the year, in cities and villages, in 44 states and the District of Columbia, and represented yearly expenditures for food from $32 to $200 per person (spring 1935 price level.)

Greater expenditures for food per person are not evenly distributed over all commodities, says Dr. Stiebeling. A greater proportion is likely to go for eggs, meats, milk, butter and the succulent vegetables and fruits than for grain products, potatoes, dried legumes and fats other than butter.

A threefold increase in total pounds of food purchased may mean only a threefold increase of milk and lean meats, but a fivefold increase in fruits and vegetables other than potatoes, and in butter and eggs. The groups spending the most for food not only have more food, but food richer in high quality proteins, in minerals, and in vitamins. Some waste is evident with increasing expenditures for food and a tendency to purchase more expensive forms of food; more butter and a higher percentage of fluid, rather than canned milk.

SLAVES SANG "SWEET CHARIOT"

From the Buffalo News.

The way that the immortal spiritual, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," came to be composed has been made known as a result of investigation by employees of the works progress administration. According to their data, Wallace Willis and his wife, slaves in the Choctaw nation, first sang the song as they leaned on their hoe handles in the cotton, and looked longing across the Red river, which became, symbolically for them the Jordan.

The episode happened in 1840. The Willises, "Uncle Wallace" and "Aunt Minerva," had been born in Hickory Flat, Miss. Owned by a wealthy planter, Brit Willis, they were taken to what is now Oklahoma and leased as servants to the Old Spencer academy near Doakville, then a boarding school for Choctaw Indian boys. The Rev. Alexander Reid heard them sing the spiritual they had composed when working on their master's cotton plantation. When visiting in New York Mr. Reid listened to the Jubilee singers of Fisk university. They were engaged in recitals, at which they asked for contributions to Negro educational institutions in the south. Mr. Reid gave this group three of the songs he had heard "Uncle Wallace" and "Aunt Minerva" sing: "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Steal Away to Jesus," almost equally famous and "I'm a Rollin'."

Like the works of Stephen C. Foster, the spirituals composed by this humble pair have become part of the nation's folklore. Homesick for Mississippi, for the broad rolling river called the "Father of Waters," longing also for release from poverty and toil, they composed verses and music which will live forever. Religion may be the opiate of the people. It is also a source of inspiration to those who practice it.

DRIVES WORKERS BY FEAR

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Kremlin goes in strong for periodic praising and prodding of Soviet workers, constantly seeking greater industrial and agricultural production. But Moscow has now set a definite increase for both—20 per cent, a new standard for factories and farm to attain. Coming at a time when Germany is hammering away for similar gains, the Russian order—for it amounts to that—quickly follows ominous trials for sabotage and anti-administration conspiracy. Hence the commissars may get results, if only through aroused fear.

Thanks to Alexi Stakhanoff, and the quickened production this symbolic machine-like workman represents, the closing year of the second Soviet "5-year plan" finds the Soviet alternately boasting and restraining every nerve to make it a success.

But rivalry with Germany comes closer home. Both countries are rushing war materials, both fear food shortages, both have to contend with human nature which only reluctantly forgets self for the state. And in their common zeal for autarchy and totalitarian independence, they crack the whip all the harder on their own nationals because there is always the chance that presently they may be lashing at each other.

MUSIC WITH HOME WORK

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Arthur Cremin is director of the New York Schools of Music; his faith in dulcet tones is professionally explicable. And when he urges music as an aid to clear thinking, he ranks a notch on Hollywood which long has used wailing violins to help temperamental actresses express poignant emotion.

Mr. Cremin bothers most about the pupil doing his home work; give him soft, sweet Brahms or Mozart music—no technically exciting Chopin, no suave, majestic Beethoven, no rich counterpoint of Bach—and he can concentrate on his algebra and lead his class.

But it must be gentle music; syncopated jazz exhilarates a person, especially if bored, Mr. Cremin warns. Johnnie must watch his tunes; the wrong one, and he might throw his books into the ash can. Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," just now, would probably break up a whole school.

Nearly everybody wants peace. The trouble is, people think peace is something that has to be fought for.

They say "you can't eat the Constitution, but thousands of lawyers have eaten on it."

The MOUTHPIECE

READ THIS FIRST:
A cable from America excites the interest of the stenographer in the dingy law office of Stuckey & Stuckey, London. Upon the arrival of Charles Stuckey, Jr., daughter of one of his law respectable clients, now on the continent with her mother, has inherited $1,500,000 from an American uncle, Colonel Alice Lutz-Stuckey, calls and reads the cablegram about the inheritance which Charles leaves the office for a few moments. Lutzman proposes that they arrange for the inheritance—before Stuckey tells her, Jacqueline Smith, having her assign the property—before Stuckey tells her, Lutzman would take three-fifths of the inheritance. Stuckey and Asson each one-fifth. Asson arrives and agrees to try and marry Jacqueline and Stuckey, reluctantly, consents to handle the legal end of the scheme.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:
CHAPTER 6
THE HOTEL WALTERSTEIN was not the best hotel in Cobenzil, and for that reason Mrs. Millicent Ferguson Smith had a grudge against it. If it had been the best hotel, Mrs. Smith, of course, would not have been staying there; and although she tolerated its second-class amenities with a show of patient resignation, she could never shake off a secret feeling of resentment against the place for its failure to be the sort of hotel in which a woman of her taste would choose to reside.

Yet the Waldenstein, besides the comparative moderation of its tariff, had much to commend it. It had a pleasant sunny terrace that looked out over the valley of the Danube; it had comfortable chairs on the terrace, and big gaily colored sun umbrellas, exactly like those of the more expensive hotels; and even had its charges been less moderate, the view from the terrace could hardly have been more beautiful than it was under present conditions.

At the moment Mrs. Smith did not seem to be agreeably impressed by the beauty of the view. Seated in a low cane chair beneath one of the umbrellas, she was gazing at the river with a look of disapproval more in keeping with the Thames at Wapping than with the sunlit waters of the Danube at Cobenzil.

Seeing Mrs. Smith sitting there, with the smoke of her Egyptian cigarette scenting the air, one might have been excused for wondering why she should be subjecting the Danube to that disappointing frown. True, she was in her forties—a fact which might make any woman frown not only at the Danube but at the entire unjust and ill-conceived scheme of existence; but "the forties" is a wide and vaguely defined realm in which a woman may wander for far more than a decade without adding to her years, and Mrs. Smith certainly did not look her age. She was still pretty, she had still to discover the first silver thread in her dark hair; and her slim figure was still independent of special diet and fatiguing exercises. Her dress, too—cause of so many feminine frowns—was such as any woman might have worn without frowning even in Cobenzil's best hotel. All these blessings, and Mrs. Smith was none the less frowning. But she was not at the moment counting her blessings; she was mentally counting the contents of her purse.

The manager, of course, had behaved very badly—coming out here on the terrace and flourishing the bill at her and gabbling on in his nasty guttural English. After all, it was quite a small amount. Four weeks for herself and Jacqueline at his wretched little hotel was nothing to make such a fuss about, especially as for the first fortnight she had paid her bill regularly each week.

That was the worst of staying at these second-rate places; they thought only of getting their money, and didn't take the least trouble to keep the bath water hot. Last night she had actually shivered, and the toast this morning hadn't been fit to eat. And in any case there was no excuse for making a scene out here on the terrace, where the manager had been so

Mrs. Smith turned her head to see Jacqueline coming toward her flourishing the bill at her and advertising the matter to the whole hotel. Anyone might have seen—Jim Asson or Colonel Lutzman. Experience had taught her that nothing could so effectually wither the roots of a young friendship as a suspected shortage of money, and she did not want either Jim Asson or Colonel Lutzman to witness the scene of them were coming along nicely, and it would be disastrous if anything should occur now to check them. Time enough to broach money matters when their friendship was more firmly rooted and likely to survive the shock.

But the financial situation had to be faced. The manager had delivered an ultimatum: either she must pay her bill within a week or she must leave his hotel. He had a wife and a family to support, he had said—as if she were in some way responsible for his indiscretions! But the ultimatum was a nuisance. It had been delivered at a most awkward moment. Mentally counting her assets, Mrs. Smith realized that the settlement of the bill within the stipulated time limit was in the highest degree improbable; which would mean that, unless the manager could be brought to a more reasonable frame of mind, she must leave the hotel. And she did not wish to leave, because that would mean leaving Jim Asson and Colonel Lutzman and abandoning all her schemes and hopes. Jim Asson and Colonel Lutzman were chances far too good to be left lying about a continental hotel for someone else to pick up and make use of.

Still, there was a week before the ultimatum would expire, and a great deal could happen in a week. She must see if she could speed things up a little. If only Jacqueline were more tractable. She lighted another cigarette, caught the sound of footsteps on the terrace, and turned her head to see Jacqueline coming toward her. She noticed that the girl was frowning, and instantly dismissed her own frown and greeted her with a smile.

The outward appearance of Jacqueline Smith always brought a smile to her mother's lips. Jacqueline in that respect was so completely satisfactory, with her dark hair, her gray eyes, her clear-cut features and her slim, boyish figure. Jacqueline helped herself to a cigarette and lighted it.

"Well, mother? Do we start packing?"

Millicent Smith glanced at her quickly. She had tried very hard to cure herself of the habit of giving her head a sudden turn when Jacqueline made one of her unexpected remarks, but she had never managed to do it. Some of the girl's remarks were so very disconcerting.

She raised her eyebrows in mild surprise.

"Packing, my dear?"

Jacqueline nodded.

"I suppose we're moving on, aren't we?"

"Moving on? I hadn't thought of it, Jacqueline. We're fairly comfortable here, and there are some quite nice people staying in the hotel, and even if the bath water isn't very hot—"

"When a hotel manager starts waving a bill we usually do move on, don't we?"

Again Mrs. Smith raised her shapely eyebrows.

"I don't think I quite understand, Jacqueline."

"What you mean, mother, is that you hoped I didn't understand. But I saw the whole thing from the window of my bedroom, and it didn't need much understanding. Where are we going next?"

"We're going nowhere; we're staying here."

"But if you can't pay the bill—"

"I haven't said I can't pay the bill. Just because I don't choose to pay this afternoon—on the hotel terrace, in full view of everybody—it doesn't follow."

Jacqueline cut her short with a gesture of impatience.

"Why go on pretending, mother? I'm not a perfect fool, and it doesn't deceive me. Do you really suppose I don't know why we left Marienbad, and Prague, and—oh, half a dozen other places? We left because the hotel would give us no more credit, because it was a case of paying up or being kicked out. And because we couldn't pay up, we sneaked off."

"I have never sneaked off in my life, Jacqueline. I have never left a hotel except by the main door."

"We left Prague at six in the morning, anyway, so that we could slip away without giving any tips."

tures of the Chamber agains it. Sibley is 52, deeply religious and very active in the Episcopal church and charitable organizations. He has extensive farm properties in New York, California, Canada and Montana. He inherited a considerable fortune, which he greatly increased. Both he and Mrs. Sibley have become very fond of Washington's official and social life.

Tax Evader
Even members of the U. S. Board of Tax Appeals, arbiters of tax controversies that run into millions annually, have troubles with the income tax collector.

John H. Sternhagen has been a member of the Board since its creation in 1924. He is very meticulous. He believes in paying the Government everything due it, but not one cent more. To this end he carries with him a little black book in which, each day, he records the precise amount of his expenditures that go for taxes—such as luxury imports, gasoline taxes, etc.

Under the law it is legal to deduct federal taxes from income tax returns. So when he makes out his return, Sternhagen carefully deducts the "nuisance" taxes he had paid during the previous year.

A few weeks later, lunching with an Internal Revenue Bureau official, Sternhagen related what he had done and boasted of the accuracy of his return. "That's one return," he said, "there won't be any come-back on."

His friend said nothing, but when he returned to his office he checked the law and found, as he suspected, that the 1-cent per gallon gas tax is not deductible because it is classified as a manufacturer's excise tax.

A few days later he told Sternhagen about the error. The Tax Board member contended he was right, but promised to look up the law. He did—and the next day he walked into the office of his Internal Revenue friend and laid down a check for the few cents he had incorrectly deducted.

Merry-Go-Round
Charles F. Pace, veteran financial officer of the Senate, has a unique record in the government service. In the 24 years he has held his post he has never had an account challenged or disallowed. Also, he is doing the work of his office with the same number of employees he had when appointed in 1913. Pace favors a pension system for congressional workers with 15 or more years service. At present this class of government employees is excluded from all pension provisions.... The disclosure that Commissioner Basil Manly had been voted out of the vice chairmanship of the Federal Power Commission after holding the job three years, stirred up a hot row in the agency. The Commission finally issued a formal statement denying that Manly's deposition was due to internal dissension.... Fellow Tammanyites are telling friends that Representative Samuel Dickstein is taking so hard the refusal of the House to approve his proposed Nazi investigation that he is ready to give up his seat, and has made quiet overtures to Wigwag moguls for an appointment to a New York judgeship.

DIAGNOSING HOW PERSON WAS INJURED
Suppose you are out camping, and in walking through the woods

Two General Groups
There are two general groups of cases in which these signs are changed from normal. One is in depressed conditions—due to shock from pain, faintness, exhaustion, injury to an extremity, or hemorrhage. The consciousness is dulled or incoherent, may be completely absent. The color is pale. The breathing is shallow and rapid—20 to 25 a minute. The pulse is weak, thready and rapid—80 to 120 a minute. The temperature is low. The skin is clammy and moist.
In head injuries, with possible concussion or skull fracture, and also in apoplexy, alcoholic intoxication and sunstroke the consciousness again is dulled, incoherent or absent. The color is flushed—the face may be bright red or purplish. The breathing is deep and noisy, gurgling or gurgling and slow, even down to 8 to 10 a minute. The pulse is slow and full and bounding—50 to 70 a minute. The temperature is high, the skin is hot; in sunstroke even uncomfortably hot to your fingers. If not noticeably warm, the skin is dry.

After this general examination proceed to look for local trouble—skull fracture, broken bones, try to restore consciousness with a dash of cold water in the face, and if successful, get the story.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

WASHINGTON—Rumors have been widely published that Justice Brandeis is going to resign, but in private conversations with his friends he has indicated just the opposite.

The Justice will be 81 years next November, and has to be careful about his health. But he has plenty of vigor left to criticize Roosevelt's Supreme Court reform.

He is not so bitter against the President himself as he is against those who sold him the idea. Brandeis thinks the President was sold a bad bill of goods.

Justice Sutherland also has told friends that under no circumstances will he resign as long as the Court is under attack.

Four years ago he definitely planned to retire, but despite ailing health, he is now determined to stick it out to the bitter end.

Strange Interludes
The economy drive on Capitol Hill has boomeranged against some of its most ardent zealots in a very hilarious manner. Take the case of Senator Carter Glass.

The Virginian is chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee. He has been absent a great deal because of illness, so he named Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, next in rank on the committee, as acting chairman and gave him his proxy.

Now McKellar is an enthusiastic supporter of the Tennessee Valley Authority. When the second deficiency appropriation bill came before his committee, he offered an amendment authorizing the beginning of construction on a new $120,000,000 dam at Gilbertsville, with a $2,700,000 grant for the first year's work.

The proposal precipitated a hot row. After much argument the committee took a vote on it. The result was a tie.

Thereupon McKellar pulled Glass's proxy out of his pocket and calmly voted him for the dam—ignoring the fact that the Virginian is one of the most vociferous economy clamorers in Congress. Had he been present, Glass certainly would have lined up with the opposition.

Horse of Another Color
The case of Chairman Robert (Muley) Doughton of the House Ways and Means Committee is even more amusing.
Like Glass he has been beating the economy drums. Recently he opined that the $1,500,000,000 relief budget could well be cut to $1,000,000,000. But suddenly the economy lightning hit Doughton in his own backyard and—well, that was a horse of another color.
The North Carolinian is a strong advocate of the Blue Ridge Parkway, a highway connecting the Shenandoah National Park in Virginia with the Great Smoky National Park, which lies partly in North Carolina and partly in Tennessee. Ten million dollars was asked of the Budget Bureau for construction of the road.
It allotted $5,000,000 to begin work—which was acceptable to Doughton. But the House Appropriations Committee had other ideas. It slashed the sum to $2,500,000.

When Doughton heard the bad news, right then and there he and economy parted company. He announced he had been misunderstood. What he meant in urging economy, he proclaimed, was that Congress should abide by the recommendations of the Budget Bureau.

Then he roared into action, but-tonholing scores of members with personal pleas to vote for the $5,000,000 appropriation.

Note—The Blue Ridge Parkway will go within three miles of the big farm on which Doughton lives and past another that he owns.

Unique Accession
If Secretary Frances Perkins can put it over the New Deal will gain a unique accession.

The Labor Department chief is quietly pushing Harper Sibley, ex-president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, for appointment to the vacancy on the Social Security Board. The job must be filled with a Republican, a requirement that Sibley meets.

Behind Miss Perkins' support is a close friendship with Mrs. Sibley. When the latter's husband was elected head of the Chamber two years ago, Miss Perkins gave a big reception for them at her Georgetown home.

Miss Perkins holds a good hand of cards in backing Sibley for the Social Security job.

He and the President are old friends and fellow New Yorkers. Both are gentlemen farmers and graduates of Groton and Harvard.

Furthermore, while very wealthy and a big business man, Sibley has been conciliatory in his attitude toward the Administration. On a number of occasions he was responsible for tempering violent strike-

So Bad Seems To Hurt Heart

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart seemed to hurt. A friend suggested Adierka. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never feel better."

Mrs. Jas. Miller.
Adierka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adierka gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system, your stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.

Dr. H. L. Smith, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierka greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adierka and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and stubborn constipation."

CLASS DAY PROGRAM AT LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY

The senior class of Lincoln high school will give its class day program Friday morning, May 21, in the auditorium of Lincoln high school.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Held on Assault Charge

George Kaley, colored, charged with assault upon Eunice Marshall, was given a hearing before Judge Charles W. Bente, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace, this morning. He was bound over to the action of the June term of criminal court and in default of a $2,500 bond was committed to the county jail.

Hearing in Check Case

Montie Mickle, Marshall, arrested by Constable Forrest Pindexter on a charge of giving a bad check to Ed Callis in payment for a cow, will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Bell Hutchinson this afternoon.

Mickle, it was said, bought the cow from Callis and gave him an alleged worthless check then shipped the cow to St. Louis where it was sold. Mickle is held in the county jail.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy at the death of our brother, Wm. T. Stephens, to Rec. R. E. Hurd, to those who sang at the funeral, the hall bearers, and for the beautiful flowers.

MODERN NOAH'S ARK

FERNAND GRAVET

There will be many sights to see out at the Modern Noah's Ark when it comes to Sedalia for two days starting Sunday. The huge tents will be erected early in the morning. The animals, baby elephant, steers, ponies, paint mules, St. Bernard dogs, weighing over a hundred pounds apiece, little donkeys, small cows, big cows, two headed cows, all alive, will be exercised and placed in their respective stalls to await the arrival of the people who come to see the show in every town.

Declared by 50,000,000 French women to be their country's real gift to womanhood, Fernand Gravet will be seen for the first time in America in "The King and the Chorus Girl," which comes to the Liberty Theatre on Sunday for three days.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

THIS is the week to eat strawberries and more strawberries. If statistics hold, more strawberries are picked and shipped the third week of May than in any other week of the year. Cherries, pineapple and rhubarb are also seasonal.

Poultry prices continue lower than they were a year ago, eggs cost about the same amount and butter is considerably higher. Meat prices are about as they were last week but fish is plentiful and many varieties are cheap.

Good Iceberg lettuce is again reasonable. Other good vegetable values will be found in potatoes, peas, spinach and asparagus. Beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower and green peppers continue to be relatively expensive.

Seasonable foods make up the following menus.

Low Cost Dinner
Veal Loaf ... Scalloped Potatoes
Buttered Spinach
Bread and Butter
Vanilla Pudding with Strawberries
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Baked Half Ham or Smoked Shoulder
Creamed New Potatoes, Green Peas
Strawberry Tarts
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Appetizer Salad
Roast Stuffed Young Chicken
New Potatoes Asparagus
Currant Jelly

TRY TODAY...This Delicious Bread That's Baked In AIR-CONDITIONED Ovens

See For Yourself How Much More Tender It Is And How Much Longer It Stays Moist And Fresh

NOW expect new things! For here is bread that is baked in air-conditioned ovens! It is called Taystee Bread—and is so much more tender that you will be amazed when first you try it. It will give your whole family a new conception of how completely delicious bread can be!

Each loaf is baked in air-conditioned ovens where temperature and moisture are scientifically controlled. It is not subjected to dry heat. For dry heat not only acts to toughen the crust—but tends to drive flavor out.

Moist heat, on the other hand, avoids this "parching" effect. Natural flavor is heightened—and the bread is more tender, with a doubly tender crust.

Also important—bread baked in air-conditioned ovens retains its freshness longer. It doesn't dry out as fast as bread baked in less modern ways.

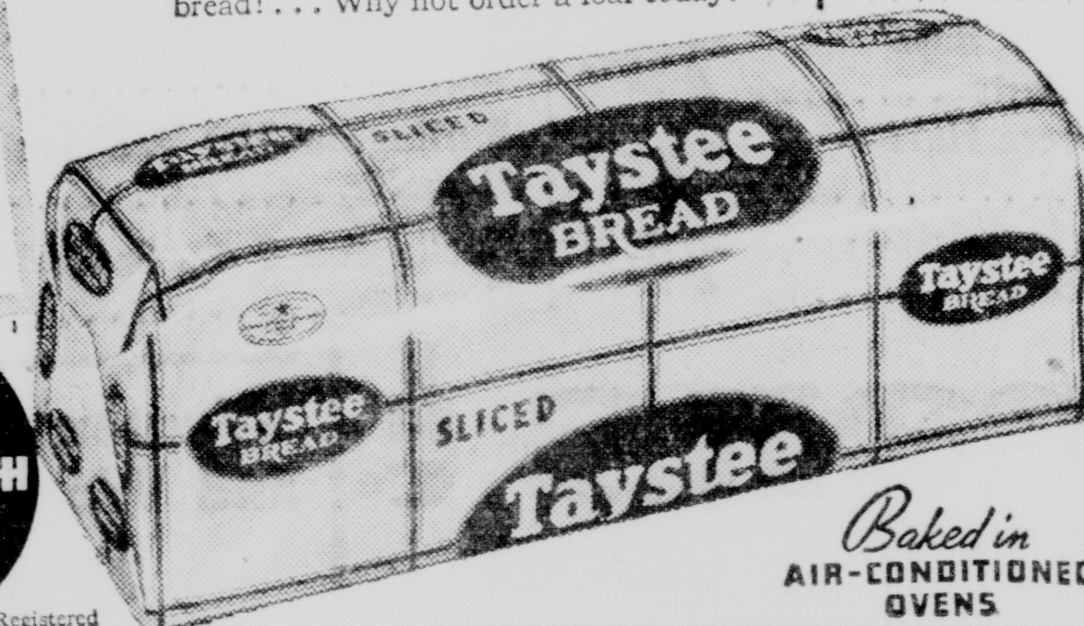

So next time don't just ask your grocer for a "loaf of bread." Get Taystee Bread. Ask for it by name.

When you buy it, feel it in the package. Note how much softer and more tender it is... When you get it home, examine a slice and see what a delicate, lacy texture it has... Then taste it. And see how much more it tastes like home-made bread!... Why not order a loaf today!

Mrs. C. E. Davis, 50-Time Prize Winner And Champion Bread Baker

At Noted Glasgow Free Fair, Says: "I wouldn't have believed that air-conditioning could make bread so deliciously tender—or give it such a luscious home-made taste."

CALL CAKE FOR MAN

 Menu Hint
 Tomato Juice
 Cold Meat Croquettes
 Creamed Potatoes
 Watercress Salad
 Lord Baltimore Cake
 Tea or Coffee

You've heard about Lady Baltimore cake. A book was written about it once upon a time. The recipe I am giving you today is the mate to it—Lord Baltimore cake. The cold meat croquettes finish up the last of the roast of beef, which I usually find hard to dispose of.

Today's Recipes
COLD MEAT CROQUETTES—One pint (two cups) cold chopped beef, one-half cup milk, salt and pepper to taste. One tablespoon butter, two tablespoons flour, one tablespoon onion juice, a little chopped parsley. Mix butter and flour together, add boiling milk and stir until it thickens, pour over the rest of ingredients, mix together, then let cool, mold and fry in deep fat.

LORD BALTIMORE CAKE—One cup sugar, one-half cup milk, eight egg yolks, one and three-fourths cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half cup vegetable oil, eggs into mixing bowl and beat until very light (about three minutes). Add sugar slowly, beating constantly. Add milk and vanilla (or other flavoring) same way. Sift in all dry ingredients except one-fourth cup of flour and baking powder; add vegetable oil and stir vigorously until smooth (three to five minutes), sift in rest of flour and baking powder, stir in well. Pour into three layer cake tins and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 40 minutes.

LORD BALTIMORE FILLING—Two cups sugar, one-half cup water, two tablespoons white corn syrup, one-half cup pasteurized dates, chopped; one-fourth cup chopped nuts, two egg whites, one teaspoon flavoring, one-half cup seeded raisins, one-half cup figs, two teaspoons lemon juice. Boil sugar, water and syrup until it spins a thread (240 degrees F.). Pour over stiffly beaten egg whites, add flavoring and set bowl in hot water and beat until thick enough to spread. Add rest of ingredients and spread at once.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Apple-Oatmeal Crinkles
 Four cups sliced apples, one cup sugar, two tablespoons flour. Arrange the apples in a deep well-buttered baking dish, sprinkling each layer of apples with sugar and flour until all are used up. Top with the following mixtures: One-half cup brown sugar, one-half cup rolled oats, one-half flour, one-half cup butter. Mix dry ingredients and cut in the butter to make a crumbly mixture. Pat this down over the top of the apples and bake in a slow oven, 300 degrees, for 45 minutes. The juice from the apples supplies the moisture. Delicious made with rhubarb, too.

Blonde Furniture Liked
 Blonde woods continue to be the darlings of the furniture industry, according to displays at the recent American Furniture Mart exhibits in Chicago. Manufacturers are trying out new finishes, a somewhat darkened natural gold blonde color being a favorite.

MARSHMALLOWS ATOP BAKED ALASKA-ETTES MAKE INTRIGUING DESSERT

Behold! The 1937 version of Baked Alaska is—the Baked Alaska-ette. Fluffy Marshmallows take the place of the meringue, and ice cream, marshmallows and cake make a delicious three-some!

Remember the thrill of pride you felt when you stepped back and surveyed your first perfect pie? Well, if you would like to recapture that exuberant feeling, just get to work and concoct these Baked Alaska-ettes. They are a departure from the conventional type of dessert and are a real culinary adventure. And they have it all over pies when it comes to making a success of them the first time you try them. For Baked Alaska-ettes, besides being delicious—"de-lovely"—delectable—are made with long-rolling ease. And no wonder, for they combine the creamy goodness of toasted marshmallow, ice cream, and homemade cake in really an elementary fashion.

Here is "what it takes" to make a Baked Alaska-ette. First, you bake a batch of your favorite cup cakes. Cool them in the tins and loosen, but do not remove. Then, hollow out the centers and fill with strawberry ice cream. Let this recipe be your "favorite" for cup cakes if your recipe file doesn't already produce one.

Whipped Cream Cup Cakes (Yield 8-10 Tea Cakes)

1 cup cake flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg (unbeaten)
3/4 cup coffee cream
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 pint whipping cream
Mix and sift all dry ingredients. Place unbeaten egg and cream in a bowl and beat together. Add vanilla extract. Pour liquid ingredients into the dry ingredients and beat thoroughly. Bake in greased muffin tins in a moderately hot oven (375°) 30-35 minutes. Cool, and remove centers from cakes.

After filling the hollowed-out cup cakes with ice cream, level off with the back of a spoon and completely blanket the top with halves of fresh pack-ettes marshmallows. Whisk cakes under the broiler for half a minute or until marshmallows are a puffy golden brown. Of course, you will want to work quickly. Serve at once.

Now you can see why they are called Alaska-ettes. They are really individual Baked Alaskas. However, the marshmallows take the place of the meringue that usually covers an honest-to-goodness Alaska. If your cup cakes are made up in the morning, you can dash home from a prolonged bridge session or going to the corner drugstore or going to your automatic refrigerator for the ice cream and turn out a party dessert in a jiffy.

And now you are probably saying to yourself, "It sounds delicious, but what am I going to do with the cake scooped from the centers of the cup cakes?" These delicious cake crumbs can form the nucleus of tomorrow's dessert. Mixed with whipped cream, marshmallows (cut in small pieces), crushed pineapple, and chopped nuts they will produce another unusually delectable dish.

What to eat-Where to buy it

Martha Logan Says - - - Try Ham Hocks and Greens

With the first warm days of spring, the uninvited dandelion begins to show up in our lawns. In your effort to eradicate these sturdy weeds, don't forget to save the tender green leaves for a tasty supper dish. Dandelion leaves, turnip leaves, and beet tops are more commonly found on our tables; but we can well emulate the French who use a wide variety of succulent young leaves such as fennel, sheep sorrel, and many other types. Because all of these greens are rich in iron, phosphorus, calcium, and Vitamins A and C, they are a fine spring tonic—a good pepper-upper—and good to eat, 4-ol Ham hocks, or the bones and trimmings from a whole ham, should be simmered until the meat is thoroughly tender. Wash the greens carefully in many waters. Cook slowly in the water that clings to the leaves, being careful to avoid burning. The type of green determines the length of time necessary to make the leaves tender. Cut the ham into serving pieces. Mix the ham and the broth with the seasoned cooked greens and serve very hot.

leaf or meat pie for an occasional change? I'm afraid most of us are apt to get into a menu rut and forget about the many less used cuts of meat.

Today, let's talk about smoked beef tongue. You will find that in the last few years there has been a marked improvement in the quality, flavor, and appearance of this product as prepared by the larger meat packers. The flavor is mild, yet different from just boiled tongue. This meat is delightfully tender and may be served in a great number of interesting combination dishes although the most popular form will always be sliced hot or cold.

To cook smoked tongue, wash it well, place in a large kettle of water. Cover and simmer gently 3 to 4 hours or until tender. Simmering makes a more tender product and the skin will peel off without the use of a knife. Trim fat and gristle. Serve hot with horseradish or tomato sauce.

Cold sliced smoked tongue makes a delicious cold meat platter served with pickled peaches and molded vegetable salad.

Spiced Fruit Sauce

One-half cup brown sugar, ¼ cup stewed cherries, cranberries or gooseberries, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ tablespoon whole cloves, ¼ lemon, sliced thin. Combine ingredients and simmer 15 minutes. Serve hot over hot sliced smoked tongue.

Braised Tongue

Slice a cooked smoked tongue in a roaster or baking pan. Surround with diced vegetables, such as carrots, turnips, peas, onions, etc. Add to the roaster 2 cups of stock in which the tongue was cooked. Cover. Cook in a 350 degree F. oven for 30 minutes or until the vegetables are tender. Arrange vegetables and tongue in a gravy boat.

Stuffed Tongue Rolls

Slice a hot cooked smoked tongue crosswise on a slant so that every slice is a good size and all the tongue is used. Make a bread dressing using 2 cups sifted bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped onion browned in 2 tablespoons lard. Add 1 tablespoon catsup and season well. Add stock to moisten. Heat dressing. Place a spoonful of dressing on each slice of tongue. Roll up. Wrap a slice of bacon around each roll. Secure with a toothpick. Broil or bake in the oven until the bacon is crisp. Serve on a platter with potatoes au gratin.

To use up the trimmings of cooked smoked tongue, try this salad using tongue and ham, or tongue only.

Ravigote Salad
1 head lettuce
1 cup cooked or canned tongue.
1 cup diced or canned ham.

1 cup diced celery.
1 cup drained canned or fresh cooked peas
1 cup diced fresh tomatoes
½ cup well-seasoned French dressing.

Chill all ingredients thoroughly before using. Remove the largest leaves from the lettuce and serve to garnish the salad. Break the remaining leaves into small pieces.

SEVENTH ELECTION FRAUD CASE IS NEARING JURY

Witness Says She Was "Scared To Death" In Serving as Clerk

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, May 20.—Two of the four defendants in Kansas City's seventh vote fraud trial testified in federal court today that Robert Strohm, Democratic precinct captain, was "running things" on election day and another testified he spent most of the day at home.

Strohm, the fourth defendant, has not testified.

Defense attorneys said only a few more witnesses remained to be called. The jury was expected to start deliberations late today.

Gene Riley, 29, a Democratic judge at the November 3 elections, and one of the defendants, testified that Strohm "seemed to know about everything and seemed to be running things."

Thomas Audley, Democratic inside challenger, another of the defendants, testified he was not around the polls long on election day because he was virtually an invalid, having been injured while working as a city fireman in 1925.

Mrs. Irene Ervin, Democratic clerk, the third defendant who testified, replied "yes sir" when asked if Strohm dominated "everything and everybody" at the polls. She said she was suffering from influenza and was "scared to death" election day.

"Why, when I reached home that night," Mrs. Ervin told the jury, "I had to call a doctor and he said I was nervous and hysterical."

Asked why she worked if she was ill, she replied:

"Because my husband and I needed that $6."

KANSAS CITY, May 20.—The only woman among four defendants in Kansas City's seventh vote fraud trial testified today she was suffering from influenza and was "scared to death" when she served as Republican clerk during the presidential election last November.

Mrs. Irene Ervin took the stand after defense counsel announced only three hours would be needed to present their testimony, indicating the case might go to the jury this afternoon.

The government finished presenting its evidence late yesterday after a federal bureau of investigation expert testified a block of 50 Democratic votes appeared to have been marked without even being torn apart.

"Why, when I reached home that night," Mrs. Ervin told the jury, "I had to call a doctor and he said I was nervous and hysterical."

Asked by her attorney why she served as an election clerk, she replied: "Because my husband and I needed that $6." She said she knew none of the other three defendants before election day. They are Gene Riley, Democratic judge, Robert Strohm, Democratic precinct captain and Thomas Audley, Democratic inside challenger, all from the seventh precinct of the twelfth ward.

No Part in Count
Mrs. Ervin said she was "ignorant" of her duties as clerk, never having served at an election before, and took no part in counting ballots. "Did you see any irregularities out there that day," asked defense attorney Arthur C. Popham.

"I saw no irregularities," she answered.

"Do you recall any turmoil around the polls that morning?"

"Yes, four men, not Americans, came in and ran out Charles Ellis, the Republican challenger."

"Referring to the Ellis episode, how did it affect you?"

"It about scared me to death. I got as far away as I could. I didn't know what it was all about."

Government witnesses previously testified that Ellis had been ejected and other workers intimidated by the four men acting on orders from the defendant Strohm.

NOTE NO SHERIFFS SUCCEEDING BELIEVES
JEFFERSON CITY, May 20.—Desire of sheriffs to be empowered to succeed themselves in a senate "no" today, with today's disapproval on a 16 to 1 vote of a proposed constitutional amendment to allow repeating in those offices.

Before the proposal—originating in the house—was defeated as a whole, Senator Allen McReynolds of Carthage offered an amendment which had as its object elimination of the office of coroner, which he called "a useless appendage on the body politic of no value save to the holder of the office, for collection of its fees."

His amendment would have submitted the constitutional change to voters with only the sheriff's name in it, and if approved would have abolished coroners. It lost 16 to 15.

Phil M. Donnelly, Lebanon, and McReynolds attacked the proposal the sheriff succeed himself as "making possible creation of an almost unbeatable county political machine."

Gene Frost of Cassville said "I'm for it if it's a Democratic machine."

The question of a third term for President Roosevelt also bobbed up during the debate.

McReynolds said "even the President is barred by an unwritten law from holding more than two terms."

"I sincerely hope that unwritten law will be broken in 1940," Frost said.

"I don't" replied McReynolds, who frequently had expressed admiration of President Roosevelt in floor discussions. "I think it is a wise provision."

can do it, you can," Lambert said.

He replied, "He explained he realized Lindbergh was potentially a great flier, principally because of the unerring, deft movement of his hands."

When Lambert asked the cost of the flight the answer was $14,000 and then Lindbergh, with a broad grin, added, "I've already raised $2,000."

"That's quick work," Lambert declared. "Who contributed that?"

"I did," said Lindbergh. "It's my total savings."

Lambert immediately replied, "All right, you can count on me for $1,000 and on my brother Wooster (J. D. Wooster Lambert, wealthy sportsman of St. Louis and New York) for another thousand."

Backing Secured
Lindbergh saw other St. Louisans and two days later had raised $15,000. In addition to the Lamberts, those who backed him were his employers, Major William D. Robertson and Frank H. Robertson, and Harold M. Bixby, Harry F. Knight, Harry H. Knicht, E. Lansing Ray and Earl C. Thompson.

On Feb. 15, 1927, the first check, Lambert's for $1,000, was handed Lindbergh and two weeks later he went to San Diego to supervise construction of the "Spirit of St. Louis."

Every possible way of decreasing the weight of the plane to assure greater gasoline capacity received the flier's attention. For example, he permitted only two coats of paint, instead of the usual three.

That care in eliminating all unnecessary weight was illustrated even more, Lambert said, when Lindbergh prepared to take off in New York on May 20, 1927.

He took out a handful of silver and handed the money to a representative of his St. Louis backers.

"Why, you'll need that when you get across," Lindbergh was told. He replied leaving the coins made room for 14 additional ounces of gasoline. He had even designed his own boots because he could find none light enough for his purposes.

In all, Lambert said, Lindbergh's precision in eliminating every ounce of excess weight permitted him to carry 12½ extra gallons of gasoline, which was exactly the reserve amount of fuel in his tank when he landed at Le Bourget in Paris on May 21, 1927, just 33 hours and 29 minutes after he left New York.

Lambert paused frequently during his recollections to point out pertinent photographs or mementoes on the walls of the living room of his home. He has a strip of fabric from the "Spirit of St. Louis," one of its valve springs, and innumerable photographs of Lindbergh.

Called the "father of St. Louis aviation," Lambert began flying balloons in 1907—Lindbergh was then 5 years old—and airplanes in 1910. He purchased his first plane from the Wright Brothers and Orville Wright was his flying instructor. He trained balloonists at San Antonio during the world war.

PROTEST TO U. S. ON SPEECH MADE BY A CARDINAL

German Ambassador at Washington Makes Over Remarks

BERLIN, May 30.—Energetic representations to the United States government by Dr. Hans H. Dieckhoff, the German ambassador to Washington, was disclosed today as Nazi Germany's newest reaction to an anti-Hitler speech by George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago.

An official spokesman, discussing the protest, said Dr. Dieckhoff's general instructions to stand for no "insults" to Adolf Hitler and his regime were explicit, and that the Mundelein representations "followed automatically in the wake of his duties."

Dr. Dieckhoff is just beginning his career as German ambassador at Washington. He recently succeeded Dr. Hans Luther, who carried to the state department the third reich's protests against anti-Hitler utterances by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York.

These were in turn followed by Berlin representations by the United States ambassador against Nazi press attacks on American citizens and institutions.

Cardinal Mundelein, on Tuesday, said in a diocesan speech at Chicago that the German trials of priests and lay brothers on immorality charges constituted propaganda worse than the atrocities of the world war. He termed Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels "crooked" and said of Hitler that he was "an Austrian paper-hanger, and poor one at that."

The German press immediately burst into protest, asking if the Holy See would permit such a speech. At Vatican City, prelates said the Cardinal had a right to speak his own mind, and that the Holy See would not interfere.

Neither Hitler nor Konstantin Von Neurath, reich foreign minister, were in Berlin today, and a spokesman said he believed there were no specific orders for the protest.

"Dieckhoff," said this spokesman, "knows his business."

Press protests, started by Goebbels' Der Angriff, were taken up by virtually all newspapers. Even the Catholic organ, Maerkische Volkszeitung, said:

"We are painfully struck by the fact that this high prince of the church has gravely insulted the German chief of state and his closest collaborators—we are used to sharp unfriendly notes from the United States, but words from spiritual authorities should be free from insults."

Most of the controlled newspapers, without saying what Cardinal Mundelein called Hitler, stated he "vilified Der Fuehrer in a way impossible to describe."

Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter captioned its report of the Mundelein remarks: "Shameless campaign of lies by Roman Catholic International."

Last night, in a speech before the Institute of politics at the University of Berlin, Prof. Friedrich Schoenemann, who just has returned from a trip to the United States, said public opinion in the United States now could be mobilized for war against Germany "within a few hours," in contrast with the "three years" it took before America entered the world war.

He blamed "skillful" British propaganda over a long period, "plus in recent years skillful Communist and Jewish propaganda."

FATHER TWICE AFTER 94th BIRTHDAY IS DEAD

NEW BERN, N. C., May 20.—(P)—George Isaac Hughes, whose record of becoming a father twice after passing his 94th birthday astonished the medical world, died today at the age of 97.

His 28-year-old second wife and their two babies, Franklin Roosevelt Hughes, about a year old, as well as children by his first wife, were at the bedside.

SEDALIA POSTMEN APPEAR IN NEW STRAW HATS

The Sedalia postmen made their appearance today wearing their new straw hats. They are light weight, wide brimmed hats uniform in design. The carriers have been receiving considerable "kidding" about their new headgear, but they don't mind, for the hats are most serviceable for summer wear.

Judge Fricke Improves

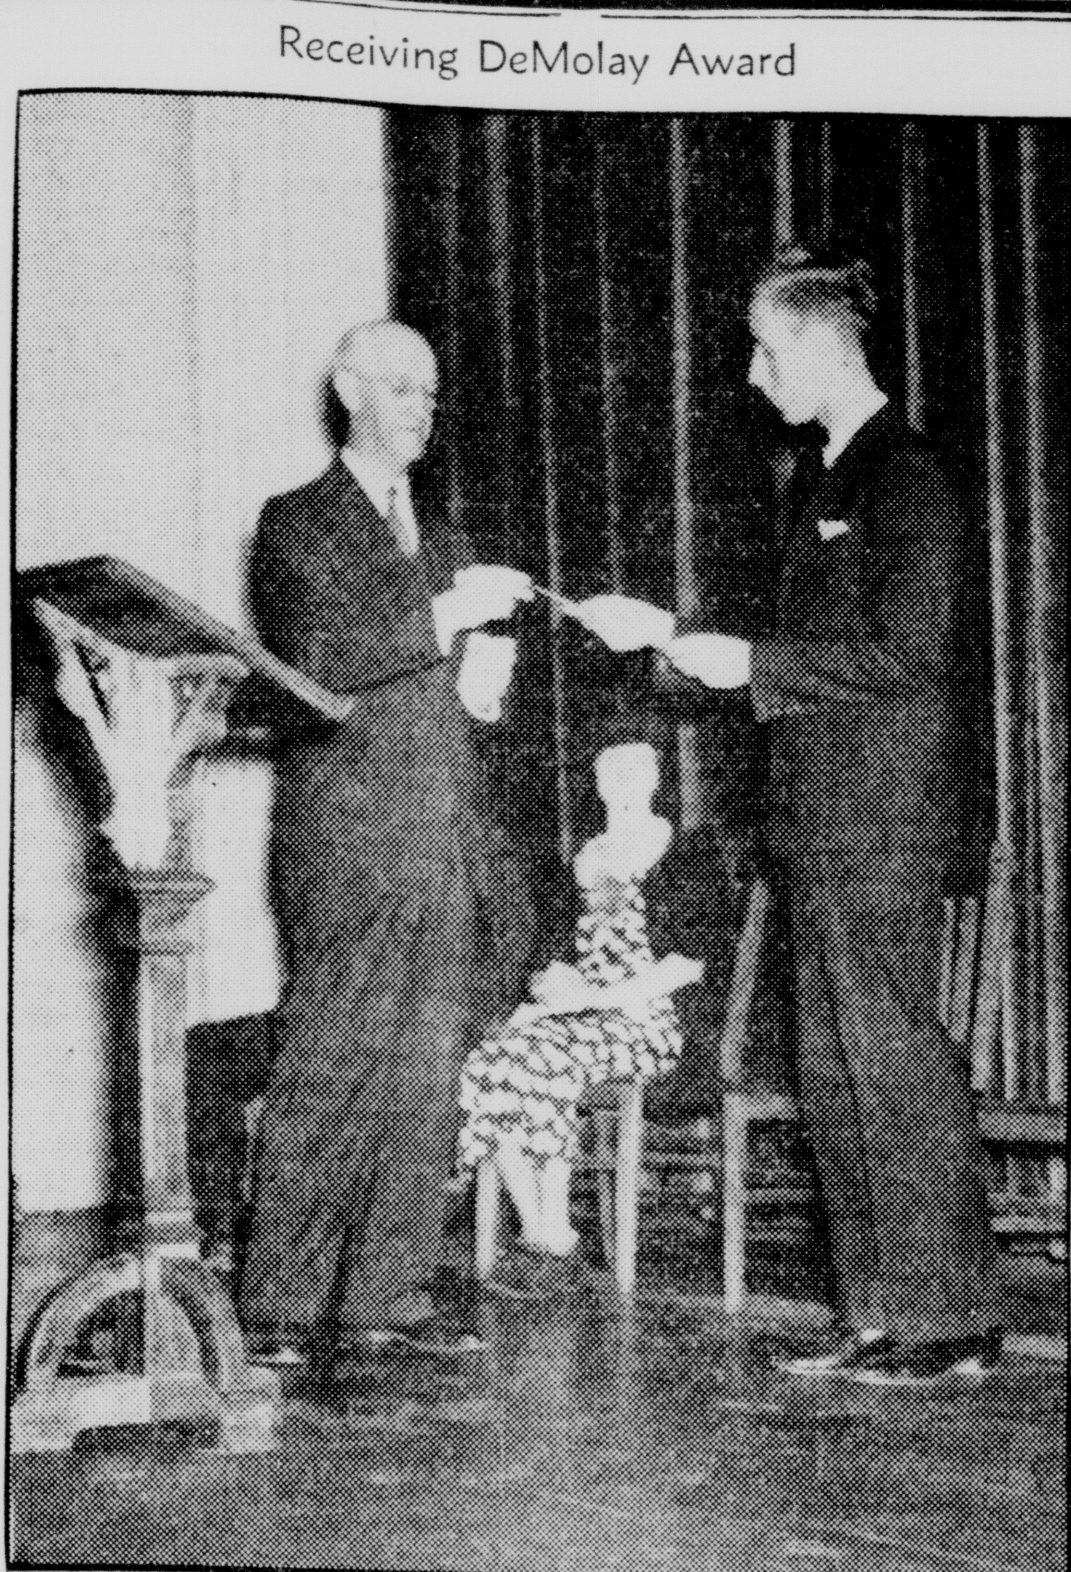

H. F. Fricke, presiding judge of Pettis county, who is receiving medical treatment at Muscatine, Iowa, is getting along nicely, according to word received by his friends. His letters are very hopeful. He states he is feeling better, and daily directs the conduct of his business at the stock yards in communications to Joe Thomas who is in charge.

Fire Companies Called.

OPPOSES GENERAL MONETARY PARLEY

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Treasury authorities disclosed today that Secretary Morgenthau is opposed to any general monetary conference with other nations.

The treasury chief, informed of officials said, believes that any monetary agreements looking toward the stabilization or other ends should be worked out in talks with individual nations.

On Capitol hill, a proposal has been advanced to hold a general monetary conference designed to effect a redistribution of the world's gold supply.

Close associates of Morgenthau said he felt much the same as the late Will Rogers about international conferences. They cited Rogers' remark that America "loses its shirt" every time it goes into a conference.

WOUND AT DRINKING PARTY IS FATAL

KANSAS CITY, May 20.—Richard J. Lynch, 33, shot Tuesday night during a drinking party in the apartment of Mrs. Pauline Coleman, died early today.

Police said the 37-year-old woman, a former manicurist, told them she shot Lynch accidentally while playing with a pistol. She was charged with assault with intent to kill, and released on $5,000 bond.

Lynch is survived by his widow and 12-year-old son.

CHILD DIES OF WOUND IN ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 20.—(P)—James R. Pickering, 4, died yesterday from a bullet wound in the head which Coroner W. R. Tolson said was accidentally inflicted by the boy's 7-year-old brother.

The older boy, the coroner said, saw his brother place a cartridge in a rifle at play and took the weapon from him. In attempting to unload the rifle he discharged it.

URGES CLEAN-UP OF YARDS AND ALLEYS

Raymond Fetter, sanitary officer, is urging citizens of the city to clean up their yards and alleys and make the city as attractive as possible. Many people, he said, are spending considerable time beautifying their yards, and others who follow their example will be well repaid for their work by the appearance. Rubbish may not be piled in the alley, he states, but should be burned or hauled off.

WOOD THANKS THE SENATE IN TALK

JEFFERSON CITY, May 20.—The thanks of organized labor in the state senate's approval of the pooled fund type of unemployment compensation law were delivered personally today by Reuben T. Wood, Springfield, state president of the American Federation of Labor and congressman from the sixth district.

Wood spoke from the rostrum of the senate after being requested to do so through a resolution introduced by E. A. Barbour, Jr., Springfield.

"I want to express deepest appreciation and thanks to this senate for passing a social security bill carrying with it widespread protection for working men and women, and for including in it the pooled type plan of insurance," he said.

The house has passed a bill containing the employer reserve type of fund, favored by the Associated Industries of Missouri.

"In all types of beneficial legislation we must recognize the principle that the strong must help protect the weak," Wood said.

"Through the pooled type compensation fund the big and stable industries will help protect employees in those industries which by nature are unstable and cut-throat."

Forced to defend himself Dr. Weaver broke his right thumb. He was slashed across the right cheek receiving a laceration which necessitated twenty-two stitches. He was given emergency medical attention at the Kansas City general hospital and later attended by a physician, a close friend.

The attack, according to Dr. Weaver, was entirely unprovoked.

Lindbergh Not Celebrating His Tenth Anniversary of Flight

Says If Anyone Else Wants to, All Right; Historic Trip 10 Years Ago.

By GAYLE TABOT
LONDON, May 20.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has no wish to commemorate today the tenth anniversary of his epochal solo flight from New York to Paris.

Now 35, the American expatriate succinctly told a questioning friend: "I did it. Why should I celebrate it?"

He will spend the day quietly at his country home at Long Barn with Mrs. Lindbergh and Baby Jon. There will be no telephoned anniversary congratulations; the phone has been disconnected.

One of his friends spent two days with the Colonel recently and remarked on the approaching anniversary of the flight which never has been duplicated.

"How am I going to celebrate it?" Lindbergh asked, his friend related. "I am not. If anybody else wants to all right. But I won't participate in any observance."

"I was with him two days," the friend related. "But he volunteered nothing. He and the family seem supremely happy, though."

Residents of the village seldom see the couple, although passersby occasionally get fleeting glimpses of the Colonel or Mrs. Lindbergh working with Jon in the spacious garden.

Lindbergh makes frequent trips to Cambridge to conduct experiments furthering his biological studies, but secrecy surrounds these activities.

The two have done no flying since their return from the tour to India, perhaps because of poor weather.

Rumors that the Lindberghs are contemplating applying for British Lindbergh made his history making flight across the Atlantic Ocean, ten years ago. He took off from Roosevelt Field L. I. and completed the first solo flight across the ocean in Paris.

citizenship were discounted by friends who added that "nobody really knows what he intends to do."

The couple have lived abroad since December, 1935, a few months before execution of Bruno Hauptmann for the kidnap-slitting of the first Lindbergh baby, Charles, Jr.

STUDENT COUNCIL BANQUET IS HELD

The annual student council banquet was held last night at the Smith-Cotton high school.

The program and decorations were based on a coronation theme. The centerpiece was a large crown studded with brilliants. The programs and menu were in the form of Old English scrolls.

Marjorie Claycomb, student council president of the past year completed her term and the president-elect, John Rayl, was crowned. Members of the school board, faculty and parents of the council members were guests.

Talks were made by Bob McCurdy, Clay Ellison, Marjorie Claycomb, Tom Hurley and Buddy Agniet, president of the junior high school student council. Musical entertainment was provided by Jack James, Ethel Wasserman, Margaret Clagett, Mary Hausman and Hazel Colvin. Jack James blew taps at the end of the banquet.

FAVOR $800,000,000 FOR FLOOD CONTROL

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—An $800,000,000 program to control and prevent floods was in the drafting stage Wednesday in the house of representatives.

The house flood control committee was seeking an agreement with President Roosevelt that would insure legislation this session.

The major feature of the proposal, informed persons indicated, is the recommendation of Major General Edward M. Markham, chief of army engineers, that a system of nearly 100 flood prevention reservoirs be constructed on the Mississippi and its tributaries at a cost of not more than $800,000,000. Flood control advocates in the house are understood to favor authorization of the program. The total expenditure would be spread over a number of years, the annual spending being $60,000,000 to $70,000,000.

Representative Whittington (D. Mo.) chairman of the house committee, said that although President Roosevelt had submitted the flood control report to the committee he had requested it be held up until January.

1937 BASEBALL SEASON OPENS HERE SUNDAY

Sedalia Athletics To Meet Jefferson City at Liberty Park

The opening game of the 1937 baseball season will get under way at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon when the Sedalia Athletics meet the Jefferson City Tweedie Shoe Co. team at Liberty Park.

The Athletics who have been impressive in the two games played so far out of town diamonds are taking this game seriously as they remember that last season they were forced to rally in the closing innings to gain a 3 to 1 decision over the Shoe Co. team and this year they have several new players that indicate they have a stronger club this season.

Gene Horner, young fast ball right-hander will open for the Athletics. He is one of the fastest pitchers ever to hurl for the local team and observers who have seen him pitch this season say he will win many games. In the 17 innings Horner has pitched to date he has fanned 30 batters allowed only seven hits and walked only two batters. Several of these hits were strategy. He will have for his battery mate Jesse Summers, who has been the regular receiver for the past two years.

Collins will be the visitors' hurler with McClure doing the receiving. Among the visiting players who are well known to local fans are Lou ss. Slaughter, 3b, Grider, 2b, Stokes, cf, Maxey, 1b, Stringer, 1b, and Morris, rf.

For the Athletics' live-and-let-live will be on first, Lobaugh at second, light on short, Small third, Chase left field, Barnes center field, Zey right field, Summers, catcher and Horner pitcher.

THE SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, May 20.—(AP)—If anybody wants to buy the rights to the Braddock-Schmeling fight (11-1), Max will be glad to go on the air at the Garden Bowl June 3 and tell the listeners what he would have done to Braddock if Jim had shown up—Max's manager, Joe (Yussel the Mussel) Jacobs, who contributed to literature with "We wuz robbed," and "I should of stood in bed," thought up that one.Does anyone want to start the bidding at 50 cents? ...Dick Bartlett, breezing along at a 350 clip, is doing it with hats owned by Mel Ott (.188)....Ouch!!

Looks like Hank Leiber is going to stay "beamed" for a time, so the Giants are looking for an outfielder.Various reports have Wally Berger of the Braves being routed to the Polo Grounds....Southpaw Roy Henshaw and Ralph Birkhofer haven't turned in a victory for the Dodgers all season, but they've finally managed to crash the win column in the intra-club poker games....Johnny Farrell still is the nattiest dresser among the golf pros.Is it true that old Tris Speaker will become manager of Cleveland July 4 if Steve O'Neill hasn't established the Indians as a contender by that time?

Ho hum, now they've got Jack Crawford, the Australian tennis star, on the skids....That's just what they said about Bunny Austin of England a couple of times, also Fred Perry and even Ellsworth Vines the year he turned pro....But it is a fact the U. S. cup owners are having trouble deciding on a No. 2 singles player to go along with Don Budge....Betsy Grant is too small, they don't like Frankie Parker's forehead and Gene Mako's generalship isn't keeping with his power and control....Write your own ticket....Bob Quinn of the Boston Bees, explains the failure of Tom Winsett, who hit 21 home runs in the American Association last June to strike his stride with the Dodgers this way: "Trouble is the major league pitchers—the meanees—just won't throw when Winsett is swinging."

Friday's Schedule
Jefferson vs. Sacred Heart.	Broadway vs. Washington.	Horace Mann vs. Mark Twain.	Whittier vs. St. Patrick.

Jefferson versus Sacred Heart for the Grade School Softball league championship. That's the way things stand following Wednesday's games which saw the two title contenders emerge victorious while St. Patrick, another team which had shared the lead, fell before the giant-killing Washington club. The title battle headlines Friday's concluding set of games.

Jefferson had it easy yesterday after overcoming an early Broadway lead and won, 13 to 7, but Sacred Heart had to rally for six runs in the sixth inning to nose out the rejuvenated Horace Mann outfit which on Monday had won its first game in two seasons. The score was 13 to 12.

Washington, which essayed a giant-killing role Monday by handing Jefferson its only setback thus far, continued the part yesterday by plastering a 12 to 3 defeat on St. Patrick, thereby eliminating the "Irish" from championship consideration.

Whittier, defending champion but already out of the title picture, was the other victor yesterday, defeating a hapless Mark Twain team, 15 to 7.

FRENCH, CUBS' ACE, MAY BE BACK WITHIN A WEEK

CHICAGO, May 20.—(AP)—Larry French, ace left hander with the Chicago Cubs, hopes to return to the lineup within a week.

The cast was removed today from his fractured right hand, injured 10 days ago when he attempted to stop a terrific line drive off the bat of Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati catcher.

FISTS FLY WHEN HUBBELL BESTS DIZZY DEAN, 4-1

Players Take "Battle of Century" Literally as Carl Wins 22nd

DIZZY AND RIPPLE FINED $50 EACH FOR THEIR BOUT

NEW YORK, May 20.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean and Jimmy Ripple each were fined $50 by Ford Frick, president of the National League today, for their fight in the St. Louis Cardinals-New York Giants game at St. Louis yesterday.

President Frick, who spent about $50 of the league's money in long distance tolls trying to get all the facts, sent these telegrams to Dean and Ripple:

"For actions on the ball field tending to precipitate a riot, you are fined $50 payable to this office within five days."

No one else was fined.

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—(AP)—It was billed as the "battle of the century," but the 26,339 fans lured to Sportsman's Park yesterday to watch Jerome "Dizzy" Dean try to stop the winning streak of Carl Hubbell had no idea the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Giants would take it so literally.

Almost lost in the turmoil of a free-for-all brawl which boiled over the infield and overflowed into the outfield, with practically all the players participating, was the fact that King Carl turned in his 22nd consecutive victory in two seasons, 4 to 1, with another hurling masterpiece.

The game packed drama from the start, the tension increasing inning by inning to an anti-climax in the sixth when a balk called Dizzy was followed by a three-run Giants spurge and prolonged verbal outbursts from the Cards directed at Empire George Barr.

Ducky Medwick caught one on the nose in the second inning, sending the ball into the left-field bleachers for a home run and that run loomed larger by inning until the sixth, when the first major argument occurred.

Whitehead, Giant second baseman, singled to start the frame, and went to second on Hubbell's sacrifice. Bartlett lifted a fly which Durocher collared in deep short, but Umpire Barr ruled Dean had balked on the pitch.

The Cards swarmed around Barr, a lone blue figure in the circle of boisterous, dust-kicking white-clad players. He stuck by his guns, basing his decision on a new ruling clarifying the balk. The ruling is that a pitcher must come to a pause in his delivery after looking at the bases.

After that Dizzy, madder than a wet hen, poured the ball into the batters and they responded with a brace of singles, which, combined with Pette Martin's error on Bartlett's long drive brought in three runs. The fourth came in the ninth after the big brawl, Bartlett scoring on Danning's pinch double.

In the ninth Jimmy Ripple, Giant center fielder, was forced to pancake to escape one of Dizzy's fast ones. Dean was working with a taped right thumb, which made an occasional delivery go off on a tangent like a wild discus throw, but the Giants chose to believe the Card ace was dusting them off.

Ripple bunted down the first base line to draw Dean to the bag. The first attempt was foul. The second was juggled by Second Baseman Brown, and Ripple was safe. But as the two met at the bag they came together as by appointment.

In a split-second fists were swinging, and in another split second the dugouts were emptied and players were swarming on the field like flies. A half-dozen private fights started, the men rapping off good clean singles off each other's anatomies.

The chief casualty, so far as could be learned, was a beautiful shiner gracing the eye of Don Gutierrez, Card third baseman.

The police, the umpires and other outside help finally restored order, and Gus Mancuso, Giant catcher, and Mickey Owen, Card backstop, were banished, principally because someone had to be the goat.

Dizzy refused to discuss the fight after the game, but he and Manager Frankie Frisch, who was more burned up than Dizzy's thumb, presented a noisy clubhouse demonstration of what does and what does not constitute a balk.

Shirt tail flying, one shoe off, the scrappy Card pilot demonstrated Dizzy's delivery.

"Now, how could that be a balk," he yelled.

"That's no balk," Dizzy chimed in. "I shoulda won that game 1 to 0. We wuz robbed."

As for Hubbell, it was supposed to be his show, but it was stolen from him. He turned in a near-masterpiece, allowing only six hits and tightening up with men on base until the Cards swung at their shadows.

The Giants play here again today, and the Cardinal management was worried. It didn't know whether it would be necessary to get a license from the state boxing commission, or a circus permit.

NEBRASKA CONCEDED AN EDGE IN BIG SIX TRACK AND FIELD CHAMPIONSHIP MEET THIS WEEK END

KANSAS CITY, May 20.—Nebraska, with the Big Six football title and a share of the basketball crown already, in its trophy case, will be out to make a clean sweep of the conference's major sports championships in the annual track and field meet at Lincoln this weekend, and today there was every indication the Huskers would be successful.

The impressive Nebraska triumph in the indoor meet, in which the Huskers rolled up 50 points and scored in every event, and the fact they have certain first-place winners in Lloyd Cardwell and Sam Francis and have the faculty of Schulte always manages to bob up with adequate replacements, although the sprints this year virtually are conceded to Richardson of Kansas, with Eddie Toribio of Oklahoma a threat.

Missouri finished second in the indoor meet, but there was more than a possibility the Tigers would drop behind Kansas or Kansas State, possibly both, this week. The Tigers outdoor marks on the whole have not been impressive. Oklahoma, usually a title contender, is having a lean year and does not rate as a threat, and the same goes for Iowa State.

The tennis and golf competition will be held in conjunction with the meet, with the undefeated Kansas favored in the net event, and the golf competition something of a gamble.

Big Six athletic directors also are scheduled to meet, with the 1938 basketball schedule an item of business.

Braddock Starts Putting Pressure on in Training

CHICAGO, May 20.—(AP)—James J. Braddock, world's heavyweight champion, started putting the pressure on training today when his camp at Grand Beach, Mich., was formally opened to the public. A special train carried fifty or sixty newspaper men and camera men to the camp for the event. The champion weighs about 198 pounds as a result of five weeks of light training. This is about five pounds over what he plans to scale for his title bout with Joe Louis here June 22. Louis will engage in his first public training at his camp in Kenosha, Wis., on Saturday. DECLINE ON THE WHEAT MARKET

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN

Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, May 20.—(AP)—With the Winnipeg wheat market tumbling more than 3 cents a bushel today because of beneficial rains northwest and dearth of export trade, prices here gave way in late dealings about 2 cents.

Resisting orders to buy wheat on price declines in Chicago helped to sustain the market to some extent. Besides, domestic winter wheat crops did not greatly participate in moisture that visited the spring wheat belt.

At the close, wheat was 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cent under yesterday's finish, May $1.22, July $1.21 1/2, corn 1 1/2 cent down to 1 1/2 cent up, May $1.33, July $1.35 1/2, to $1.19, and oats unchanged to 1/2 cent off.

INSTALLATION FOR NEW PASTOR HELD

Tuesday evening the bytary of Sedalia held a service of installation for the new pastor at the Green Ridge Presbyterian church. Daniel A. Moore, who has served a larger parish church near St. Louis for almost eleven years, came to Green Ridge the first of May to take over his new work.

A large group of Green Ridge people assembled for the meeting. Cars came also from Knob Noster, Warrensburg, Clinton, and Sedalia with friends. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. R. A. Waggoner of Sedalia. The charge to the new pastor was given by the Rev. J. C. Holliman of Warrensburg, the charge to the people by the Rev. W. R. Booth of Clinton and the prayer by the Rev. S. G. McCluney of Knob Noster.

A beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented by Dr. J. E. Cannaday, member of the Sedalia church. After the formal ceremony the pastor and his wife were greeted by the members and friends of the Green Ridge church, each coming forward to extend his good wishes and good will to them in the new work.

VETOES $5,000,000 BILL FOR FAIR

WASHINGTON, May 20.—President Roosevelt vetoed Wednesday a bill authorizing a $5,000,000 appropriation for federal participation in the world's fair at New York in 1939.

The President said the appropriation was "excessive" in view of efforts to balance the budget.

He gave as another reason a ruling from the attorney general holding that an unconstitutional invasion of the province of the executive that part of the bill giving the proposed United States World's Fair Commission complete administrative authority for expenditure of the $5,000,000.

"SERVICE SURVEY"

ARE POURING IN

Car Drivers Contributing Many Valuable Service Suggestions

Chicago, May 18—Reports are pouring in from motorists throughout the middle-west who are taking part in the huge survey of service being conducted by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to determine what services the motoring public most desires at Standard Oil Dealers' stations.

If you, too, have suggestions, or even criticisms, here is an opportunity to present your views—and perhaps win one of the 122 prizes, which range from $1,000 to $10 in cash.

DEALERS TO RECEIVE PRIZES

Naturally, the Standard Oil Dealers themselves have an important part to play in carrying out this survey successfully. Therefore every dealer who assists by distributing validated entry cards is considered eligible for special "Dealer Awards." On the completion of the survey, Standard Oil Company will award prizes as follows:

Prizes for Motorists Submitting Most Valuable Reports

1st Prize	$1,000
2nd Prize	500
10 Prizes of	100 each
20 Prizes of	50 each
40 Prizes of	25 each
50 Prizes of	10 each
Total of $5,000

Prizes for Dealers Who Assist Winning Motorists

1st Prize	$1,000
2nd Prize	500
10 Prizes of	100 each
20 Prizes of	50 each
40 Prizes of	25 each
50 Prizes of	10 each
Total of $5,000

SURVEY CLOSES JUNE 18TH

To take part in this symposium of public preference and compete for prizes, it merely is necessary to drive to the nearest Standard Oil Dealer. He will hand you your entry card and demonstrate "Standard Service" with at least three typical examples, and upon request will assist in the preparation of your entry.

All reports will be judged by a committee of three members composed of Prof. Lloyd D. Herrold, Northwestern University; George W. Barton, Safety Director, Chicago Motor Club; and Roger B. Stafford, Managing Editor, "Super Service Station," Chicago, who will select the winning reports.

Stop in at any Standard Oil Dealer's Station today and learn the details of this survey of service.

STANDARD SERVICE IS SAFETY SERVICE

... for longer, safer tire mileage

... Let your Standard Oil Dealer keep your tires at proper pressure. He knows exactly how many pounds you should carry to suit the type of and condition of your tires ... for the season of the year and the kind of roads you are traveling.

It's a simple service that takes but a few seconds, yet it may lengthen the life of your tires by as much as 40%, and it greatly lessens the danger of punctures and blow-outs.

Yes, and typical, too, of the many services rendered by your Standard Oil Dealer to make your motoring miles not only safer, but also pleasanter and more economical.
